Secretary Notes:

There were twelve members present at this month's Executive meeting at Clarky's home. Tony was away pricing a job in Bathhurst so the meeting was chaired by Mark Reid.

It was business as usual really but the significant news is that the new web site is up and running due to the sterling effort of Kerryn Gillan, and a fine job she has done. Look it up sometime. The Club showed its appreciation by providing a bucket of kitchen sink stuff to help with the dish washing chores (Rock's idea actually). As well, the secretary sleuthed some insider information from Kerryn's mother and consequently we sourced a gift voucher for her from her second favourite Gore store, Country Living for which she was very grateful. Along with this work and in conjunction with Dave McFadzien the booking system for the Lodge is up and running and working well. We have had some useful feedback from "tenants" on the questionnaire form which allows us to identify and correct any problems sooner. Thanks again those guys.

Reports at the meeting covered the bus trip to Crookston which was well attended with a full bus and several cars going. The trip started with a revisit to the Keelow Craft "factory" in Avon Street. The business has changed ownership since our last visit and continues to be a slick operation producing high quality jet boats constructed by dedicated workers with Paul Cross at the helm. Impressive was a twin engine monster for Shotover Jets which was almost complete and ready to be shipped north for its final fit out.

Secretary Notes:

Then to Crookston to look at Dave Hamilton's one man operation building Super Boats out of big sheets of aluminium. Dave was trained as a boat builder in an earlier life and continued when he came south. The boat in the workshop is Dave's own boat (or until someone comes along and makes an offer he can't refuse). I was impressed with the layout in the workshop particularly the gantry crane which allows heavy objects to be moved single handed. Also, a self-designed tubing bender was quite innovative with some intricate engineering on the lathe making the rollers. It is amazing the talented people lurking in the country. The skills, drive and persistence of these craftsmen is great to see. Having built a couple of small boats, I know how hard it is sometimes to keep at it and see the job through to the end. I have a little ditty I say to myself when things drag a bit. It is T O M. There's Only Me. There is only me to do the job, no good waiting for anyone else. Get on with it. Anyway, back to the show! We finished the night with a visit to the Forest Lodge for thirst quenching and a few nibbles. It was a great trip and thanks to Tony for organising it and the members for supporting it.

Finally a few reminders for coming events. WORK-ING BEE is on the 3rd November. Contact Tony if you can go so we know how many to cater for.

LEN ROSS FISHING COMPETITION on the 10th November. Usual rules and format. (phone Garry Ross on 0274 358032 for further details)

It was raining hard and a big puddle had formed in front of an Irish pub.

An old man stood beside the puddle holding a stick with a string on the end and jiggled it up and down in the water.

A curious gentleman asked what he was doing.

"Fishing," replied the old man.

Poor old fool," thought the gentleman.

So he invited the old man to have a drink in the pub.

Feeling he should start some conversation while they were sipping their whisky, the gentleman asked,

"And how many have you caught?"

You're the eighth."

The season now has well and truly got underway and our stands have been in use a lot of the time. So far the results have been on the lower side of our usual catch but that's the way it is.

During the school holidays the place was used for the whole time and we got to go the last three days. The first one was very very windy and we had trouble getting our screens out without taking off to Aus. We managed to get everything on and fishing but no way would we have taken the little boat out so we all worked the stands together. We had our grand children Josh and Kate with us and between us we got enough for a good meal that night. Next day was very nice and sunny so Josh and I took the boat and went down the river to the freedom fishing (pot nets) area to try our luck. When we pulled our nets I had a cup full and Josh got a K. and the same K on the two stands so another good feed. Next the same procedure, the stands got only a cup full with Josh getting 1.5 K. and Pop getting 5 K. A good result for us and plenty to eat.

While I was sitting on the catch bucket having a spell after a go at fishing I was reading a book when just happened to look down and there between my feet was a huge spider so with a leap out of the way the way I got the bucket and caught him. I brought him home to get identified and it turned out to be a Wolf spider. Fair go I reckon his leg spread would have been 50mm. 'IT WAS HUGE" He now lives in a tree lane.

Had a great time with very good weather and will be back in November or a final fling and to take the stands down.

Recipes

Baked Fish Parcels with Tomato & Zucchini

Ingredients:

- 2 Potatoes, thinly sliced
- 1 Red onion, sliced
- 2 Zucchini, sliced
- 1 clove Garlic, finely sliced
- 4 Fish fillets
- 20 small tomatoes, halved

Olive oil

- 2 cups Fish stock
- 4 sprigs Fresh dill

Directions:

Preheat the oven to 185C.

Line 4 small ovenproof dishes with baking paper, leaving some hanging over on each side.

In each container, arrange a layer of potatoes, then top with zucchini, red onion, a little garlic and most of the tomatoes, but not all.

Place a fish fillet on each bed of vegetables and divide the fish stock between them.

Drizzle over the olive oil, add the remaining tomatoes and dill, and season well with salt and pepper.

Overlap the paper sides on each dish and crimp to secure. Bake the fish for 15-20 minutes, depending on the thickness of the fillets. The fish should be opaque and just flaking at the thickest part.

Serve the parcels in the paper.

Accompany with a fresh seasonal salad.
